

Fusion PPT Overview

Why Fusion PPT?

Fusion PPT is an established leader in providing IT consulting and system integration services to organizations with challenging technology initiatives. Our ability to perform and add value in complex, diverse, and distributed environments has earned us a solid growth rate and a reputation as a trusted, capable, and results-oriented service provider.

As a privately held company, Fusion PPT combines the best practices and expertise found at large consulting firms with a nimble, entrepreneurial, and client-focused service team. We reward and encourage fresh perspectives, creativity, and intellectual risk-taking, and this consistently produces more efficient and more cost-effective IT solutions for our customers.

We Minimize Cost & Risk

As a pioneer in complex system integration services, Fusion PPT was the first to offer an Interoperability and Portability Test Lab that gives customers the ability to visualize innovative cloud configurations in a virtual environment. This lab is highly valued by our clients because it saves them significant time and money with migrations and new implementations.

Trusted Technology Partner

Our commitment to finding the best technologies gives us a unique advantage in terms of depth of knowledge and breadth of systems expertise. We research emerging technologies to determine the best fit for our clients without bias.

People, Process & Technology Focus

In addition to having a knowledgeable and qualified team, Fusion PPT takes a holistic approach to our initiatives – our solutions factor in our clients' people and processes, in addition to their current and future technologies. The end result is that our involvement produces projects that are optimized for success – with functional connected IT systems, efficient work flows, re-engineered business processes and rapid adoption by impacted user groups.

What We Configure Works

Bottom Line – Fusion PPT can assist with your end-to-end complex technology needs from design and development to deployment, management, and continuous improvement.

Innovation and Leadership

At Fusion PPT, we believe it is a critical part of our job as a leader in the IT services industry to stay at the forefront of technology. It is paramount to helping clients solve complex challenges in the best possible way. Our staff is committed to market expertise and vendor independence, and we routinely demonstrate our depth of knowledge through speaking engagements and continuous contributions to the industry. Numerous technology and strategy magazines have featured our leadership team's insights and perspectives. We contribute frequently to magazines such as Network Computing and InformationWeek, and our input covers the topics that are most pressing to IT leaders today – from cloud computing to big data management and analytics.

IT leaders leverage Fusion PPT's Innovation Lab and team of experts often for assistance with examining the latest releases of cloud services and the newest versions of big data and other software products. We validate advertised features and test interoperability, code quality, and adherence to standards. Our input benefits the marketplace and leads to better technology and solutions that adhere to best practices.
